4. A common submission was made by the learned counsels for the petitioners that this Court through order dated 14.07.2022 in CrI.P.No.9062 of 2021 and batch, while extensively dealing with the provisions of law applicable, has observed that those provisions of law does not attract to the facts of the said cases and as the allegations against the petitioners in these Criminal Petitions are also similar, a similar order may be passed.

5. Learned Assistant Public Prosecutor also stated the same.

6. This Court while dealing with the subject matter in the above referred batch of cases, comprehensively dealt with the law involved by framing the following points for consideration:-

(1) Whether being in possession and having found involved either in transporting or selling the tobacco products like cigarettes, gutka, chaini, etc., attract the provisions of COTP Act, 2003.

(2) Whether the acts of possessing, transporting or selling tobacco products like cigarettes, gutka, chaini, etc attract the provisions of the Indian Penal Code, 1860 more particularly Sections 188, 269, 270, 272, Dr.CSL, J And batch 273, 278, 328 read with 511, 336, 409 and 420 IPC.

(3) Whether either transporting or selling or possessing tobacco products like cigarettes, gutka, chaini, etc attracts Section 59(1) of Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006.

(4) Whether there exists any justifiable grounds to invoke the power granted to this Court under Section 482 Cr.P.C. and to quash the proceedings that are pending against the petitioners as prayed for.

7. Answering point No.1, this court in the common order dated 14.07.2022 rendered in Criminal Petition No.9062 of 2021 and batch, gave a clear finding at paras 16 and 17 of the order, which is as follows:-

"16. Though as rightly projected by the learned Assistant Public Prosecutor, the use of cigarettes and allied tobacco products is injurious to health and there is every need to adopt stringent approach for curtailing the said use by the public, to prohibit production, transportation and sale of those products, there is no specific provision in the COTP Act, 2003, which makes such production, transportation and sale of the tobacco products a prohibited offence. At the same time, this Court is Dr.CSL, J And batch not inclined to accept the submission of the learned counsel on record for the petitioners that as Rs.53,750/- crores of revenue is being generated in the country through the sale of tobacco products, the same has to be taken into consideration for disposal of the present criminal petitions. It is not out of place to mention that for treatment of tobacco related diseases, the victims and their families are laying their lives and there are more than eight lakhs casualties every year in the country due to direct or indirect use of tobacco related products which includes cigarettes, chaini, gutkha, etc. Also, it is estimated that loss of productivity due to use of these products is almost Rs.13,500/- crores annually. That means, the revenue generated through the tobacco industry is worthless in the light of the annual casualties and loss of productivity due to use of those products.

17. Article 47 of the Constitution of India casts a duty upon the State to raise the level of nutrition and the standard of living of its people. It also states that the State should take steps for improvement of public health as the same is its primary duty. It also lays down that the State shall endeavour to bring about prohibition of consumption of intoxicating drinks which are injurious to health. This provision is under Part-IV of the Constitution of India which lays down the Directive principles of State Policy. Basing on the said salutary provision, the legislature by its wisdom ought have framed a stringent Dr.CSL, J And batch legislation which prohibits the transportation, storage and sale of the tobacco products. However, such a legislation has not yet seen the light of the day. The only legislation that is invoked time and again is COTP Act, 2003. The said legislation does not prohibit production, supply and transportation of cigarettes and tobacco products in toto. It says that only when package of the products does not contain the label as prescribed, then the possessors of those products would be held liable for punishment. It further covers the circumstances where the said products are being sold to any person who is below the age of 18 years or that they are sold within a radius of 100 yards from any educational institution. If the possession is otherwise, it does not fall within the ambit of the said legislation. None of the acts alleged to have been committed by the petitioners therefore fit to any of the provisions of the COTP Act, 2003. Therefore, this court holds that the petitioners cannot be held to have committed offences punishable under the provisions of the COTP Act, 2003."

8. Answering point No.2, i.e., in respect of the offences punishable under different provisions of the Indian Penal Code, the findings of this Court in the aforesaid common order at para 46 are as under:-

"46. The entire version of the investigating agency is that the petitioners were involved in the business of Dr.CSL, J And batch possessing/transporting/storing/selling of tobacco products like gutka, chaini, etc. There is no whisper that the said products were banned by the competent authority. No legislation is brought to the notice of this court to show that possession of tobacco products viz., gutka and alike and involving in the business of selling those products is banned and committing such acts is declared as disobedience to order duly promulgated by a public servant, or that the acts committed would amounts to public nuisance or those acts are likely to spread infection of disease dangerous to life, or noxious for consumption as food or drink whose sale is prohibited, or that possession of tobacco products makes the atmosphere noxious to health, or there was an attempt to administer those products to any person with an intention to cause hurt, or that those acts amounts to rashly or negligently endangering life or personal safety of others or amounts to criminal breach of trust or cheating. Therefore, the provisions invoked viz., Sections 188, 269, 270, 272, 273, 278, 328 read with 511, 336, 409 and 420 IPC does not attract to the bundle of facts that are projected by the investigating agency."

9. Likewise, answering point No.3, with regard to the applicability of Section 59(1) of Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006, this Court discussing the law on Dr.CSL, J And batch the subject at para 52 of the aforesaid common order observed as follows:-

"52. Narcotic and psychotropic substances were kept out of the ambit of the term "food" specifically. It is clearly indicated that they do not fall within the ambit of the term "food". A food item means a substance intended to be used for human consumption either as a primary food or genetically modified or engineered food. Tobacco products in whatever form they may be, does not therefore fall within the ambit of the term "food". Therefore, invoking Section 59(1) of the Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006 against the petitioners is undesirable."

10. Further more, though the Government of Telangana issued notification vide notification No.501/FSS/I/2022, on 07.01.2022, prohibiting manufacturing, storing, distribution, transportation and sale of gutka and pan masala in the entire state of Telangana, the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in the case between Shri Venkateshwara Traders Vs. State of Telangana and others, vide SLA No.20441 of 2021 with SLP(C).No.1656 of 2022, stayed operation of the said notification.

Dr.CSL, J And batch

11. Likewise, a Division Bench of this Court through common order, dated 08.9.2022, rendered in Writ Petition No.20212 of 2022 and batch, at paras 4 to 8 of the order observed as under :-

"4. During pendency of the aforesaid SLP, the impugned notification bearing No.501/FSS-I/2022 dated 07.01.2022 came to be issued. By order dated 31.03.2022, Supreme Court has stayed the impugned notification dated 07.01.2022.

5. Learned counsel for the petitioners have made a grievance that despite the notification being stayed by the Supreme Court, yet the petitioners are being harassed by the local police authorities by interfering with their day-to-day businesses.

6. We make it clear that since the entire matter is before the Supreme Court, it would not be proper on our part to have a parallel adjudication as the order of the Supreme Court would be binding on all courts and authorities. Since the Supreme Court has stayed the impugned notification vide the order dated 31.03.2022, respondents shall comply with the said order of the Supreme Court in letter and spirit.

7. If any of the petitioners feel that the stay order of the Supreme Court has been violated or breached, they would be at liberty to take appropriate steps in accordance with law.

Dr.CSL, J And batch

8. This disposes of the writ petitions."

12. Ultimately, a circular Memorandum was issued by the Director General of Police, Telangana State, Hyderabad in RC.No.295/R1-NS/2022, wherein and whereby instructions were issued to the Station House Officers not to interfere with the business activities who carry out the business as per the Rules of the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India and also not to take any coercive measures against the petitioners as long as the orders of the Hon'ble Supreme Court are in force.

Further more, as earlier indicated, none of the provisions of law indicated in the respective First Information Reports and the charge sheets apply to the case facts.

13. So far as Criminal Petition No.8477 of 2022 is concerned, the allegation against the petitioner, who is arrayed as accused No.2, is only that he committed offences punishable under Sections 188, 270 and 273 IPC, which does not attract to the said transaction.

Therefore, this Court is of the view that the proceedings against him are unsustainable Dr.CSL, J And batch

14. The petitioner in Criminal Petition No.8596 of 2022, who challenged the proceedings in C.C.No.421 of 2019 that is pending on the file of the Court of I Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate, Hyderabad, was alleged to have committed offences punishable under Sections 270, 271 and 273 IPC and Sections 20(1) and 20(2) of COTP Act and also under the provisions of Prohibition of Trade Act. Learned Assistant Public Prosecutor failed to state how the said legislation i.e., Prohibition of Trade Act, applies to the case facts where the allegations against the petitioner is only that he procured gutka, pan masala and other allied tobacco products and kept for distribution.

15. Therefore, this Court is of the view that continuation of proceedings against the respective petitioners would definitely amount to abuse of process of Court and thus, the proceedings, as prayed for, are liable to be quashed.

16. Resultantly, all the Criminal Petitions are allowed.

The proceedings initiated against the petitioners in the Dr.CSL, J And batch respective cases are hereby quashed. The property and vehicles, if any, seized shall be returned to the lawful claimants by Police or the Court concerned in case, no other proceedings are pending against any other suspects/accused in the respective cases.

17. As a sequel, pending miscellaneous applications, if any, shall stand closed.
