applicant, being it's owner. The products which were alleged to be transported were seized by the police on 31/5/2021. Perusal of the FIR would reveal that the offence is registered against the unknown person i.e. driver of the vehicle, when the vehicle was intercepted. When particularly asked, whether the person who had booked the consignment for its transportation has been arraigned as an accused and whether there is any investigation conducted on the aspect as to who has booked the consignment and where was the consignment heading to, the learned APP is not able to throw any light (as he has no instructions on the aspect).

Accepting the contents of the FIR as it is, since the prohibited substance is now recovered and the applicant is arraigned as an accused, merely on the ground that he was the owner of the vehicle, unless and until the role attributed to him, is specifically clear as to whether he had any mens rea in permitting transport of the prohibited substance in his vehicle, he deserve an ad-interim protection. Hence, the following order:-

ORDER
